

Sarah Stephens

Diocese of New Westminster and Ecclesiastical Province of British Columbia and Yukon

Sarah lives in Victoria, British Columbia and currently represents the Ecclesiastical Province of BC/Yukon. She will be graduating from the University of Victoria in the Spring of 2017 with a Bachelor's degree in History. When she completes this degree, she plans on returning to university in order to become a special needs teacher. She is currently the provincial representative for the British Columbia and Yukon Anglican Youth Movement and has been for the past 2 years. In 2010, she travelled to South Africa and had the opportunity to visit Temba House which is a PWRDF sponsored AIDS education centre. In May 2016 she went to Cuba and participated in the first International Justice Camp that was organized by the Diocese of Cuba and the Diocese of Niagara, as well as PWRDF, the Anglican Church of Canada and the Anglican Foundation.
