Support for Community
Health
Workers

In Malawi, a Community Health Worker (CHW) may be responsible for the health of up to 20 families, but only receives a small stipend. In partnership with PWRDF, Partners In Health Malawi will provide three goats and appropriate training to a CHW, who will in turn be able to provide food security and additional income for his or her family.

1 SINGLE! Your gift of $80 covers one goat for a CHW.

2 DOUBLE! Your gift of $125 covers two goats for a CHW.

3 TRIPLE PLAY! Your gift of $170 covers all three goats for a CHW.

That's a re-leaf

In rural Uganda, PWRDF partner St. Jude Family Projects is planting 80,000 trees on farms and public school properties. Trees restore the soil to better health by fixing nitrogen and preventing erosion. Fruit trees also provide avocados, oranges and mangoes, improving nutrition and providing income opportunities for families.

4 Your gift of $50 provides 50 tree seedlings to rural farmers in Uganda.

The power of PPE

From 2016-2020, PWRDF's All Mothers and Children Count program empowered women and girls through improved health and food security in Tanzania, Rwanda, Mozambique and Burundi. In June 2020, PWRDF was granted a one-year extension to support AMCC partners through the COVID-19 crisis. Your donation will help supply health clinics with medical grade Personal Protective Equipment, hand washing facilities and sanitizer for community members coming in to the clinics, and education tools to prevent the spread of COVID-19.

All donations to this program are matched 6:1 by the Government of Canada.

5 Your gift of $30 keeps a clinic safe for a day. With match your gift = $210

6 Your gift of $210 keeps a clinic safe for a week. With match your gift = $1,470

7 Your gift of $850 keeps a clinic safe for a month. With match your gift = $5,950

Give the gift of Climate Action

More and more, we are seeing how important it is to care for the Earth, for all of creation that God has entrusted to us. In this year's World of Gifts guide, we've highlighted many partners who are on the front lines of climate action, United Nations 2030 Sustainable Development Goal #13. Their work to preserve water, restore the soil and to grow food efficiently and responsibly is making a world of difference.

Look for this symbol throughout this guide to see projects that support climate action!

Gifts to grow on

Muletide greetings

In Kenya, PWRDF partner Utooni Development Organization (UDO) is building shallow wells to provide safe, clean water to rural communities (see page 3). Some families still have to travel a distance to get to the wells. A donkey can carry four times the weight that a person can, so they are often given to older people to make the journey easier.

- 8 Your gift of $185 provides a strong-backed donkey to shoulder cans of fresh, clean water from the well to home.

Poultry in motion

In Colombia, PWRDF partner ILSA empowers women to be sustainable through microfinance and organic farming. With new COVID-19 safety measures in place, rural women will learn about organic farming and how to keep chickens. As quick producers of protein-rich eggs and meat, chickens improve nutrition, food security and income.

- 9 Your gift of $30 supplies a group of women farmers with 5 young chickens.

Just add water

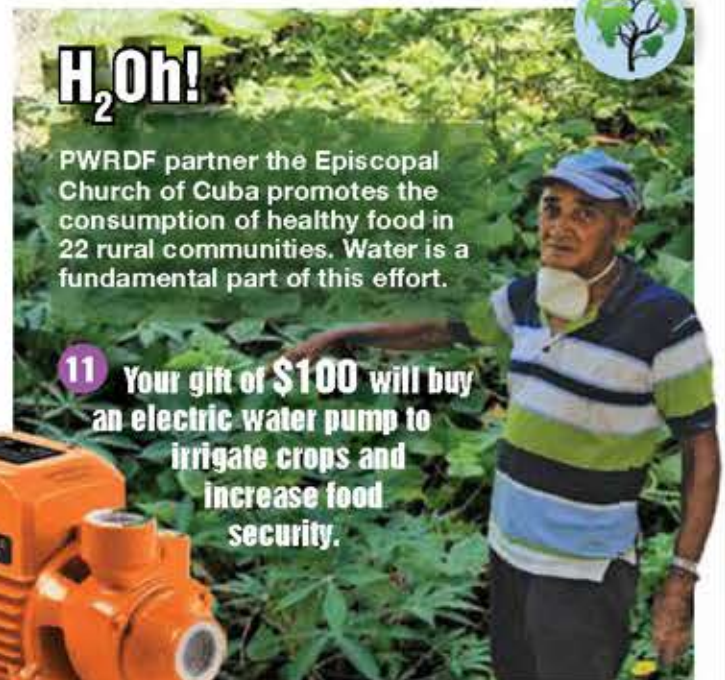

Hydroponics, the practice of growing plants in water instead of soil, may seem out of place in a community where there is severe drought or water is not accessible. But in fact it uses much less water than traditional farming, and it's taking root in the highlands of Colombia. PWRDF partner ECLOF is teaching this alternative method to improve food security and provide additional income opportunities.

- 10 Your gift of $50 supports resources for a hydroponic farmer.

H₂Oh!

PWRDF partner the Episcopal Church of Cuba promotes the consumption of healthy food in 22 rural communities. Water is a fundamental part of this effort.

- 11 Your gift of $100 will buy an electric water pump to irrigate crops and increase food security.

Make an impact all over the world!

Buy the Whole Farm!

3 goats in Malawi (from page 1), 1 donkey in Kenya, 5 chickens and hydroponic training in Colombia, 1 electric pump in Cuba and grain seeds in Zimbabwe.

- 14 Your gift of $570 will support farmers all over the world!

A grain of hope

Last year PWRDF began working with TSURO Trust in Zimbabwe on an agricultural education program to improve food security and learn how to become more resilient to climate change. Little did we know, they would be in the path of Cyclone Idai in March 2019.

- 12 Your gift of $35 will provide a farmer with 15 kg of grain seeds.
- 13 Your gift of $20 will provide 5 kg of grain seeds, vegetable seeds and fruit tree seedlings.

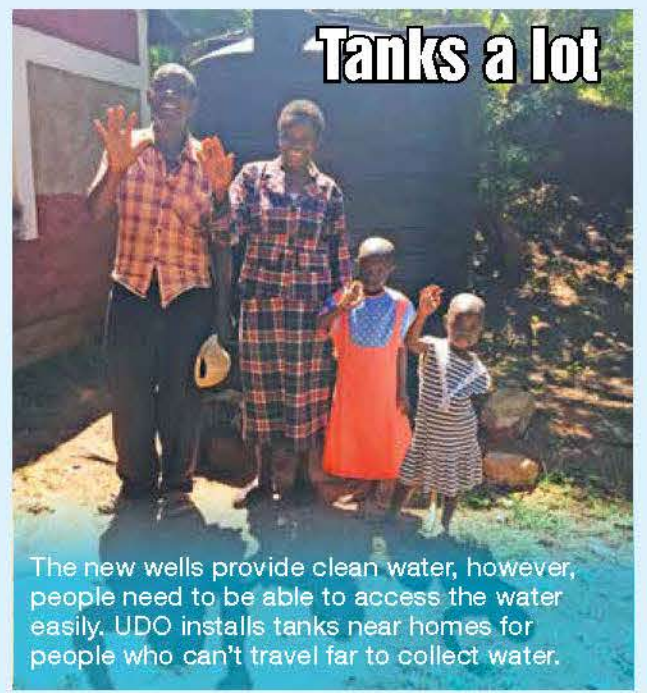

Four ways to provide clean water

Kenya dig it?

Last year World of Gifts raised nearly $40,000 to support the construction of 14 shallow wells with hand pumps and one shallow well with a solar pump with PWRDF partner Utooni Development Organization (UDO) in Kenya. This year we want to provide even more clean water for rural communities in Kenya, to improve health, reduce travel time to fetch water and keep more girls in school.

Makes a great Parish Project!

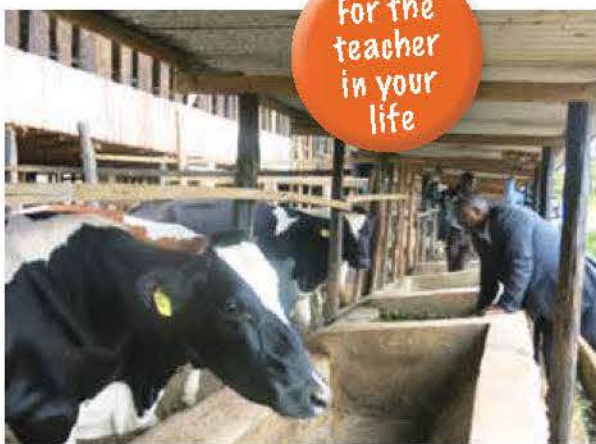

The new wells provide clean water, however, people need to be able to access the water easily. UDO installs tanks near homes for people who can't travel far to collect water.

15 Your gift of $50 will contribute pipework to a shallow well.

16 Your gift of $1,200 will build a well with a hand pump.

17 Your gift of $2,600 will build a well with a solar-powered pump.

18 Your gift of $60 will provide a water tank for a family to keep clean water close at hand.

For the teacher in your life

Milk it for all it's worth

In Kenya dairy farming is the only source of livelihood for many families. PWRDF partner ECLOF is working with dairy farmers to help them learn environmentally friendly farming techniques to increase yields and protect the planet.

19 Your gift of $100 will support the construction of a demonstration farm to show farmers how to harvest rainwater, use manure for green energy and more.

Three ways to support Indigenous communities

Comfort and joy

The traditional Indigenous shawl (known as a manta or rebozo) is an essential tool of Indigenous midwives or parteras working with PWRDF partners in Peru and Mexico. Local women use colourful cotton thread to weave icons and animal figures into the edges. Midwives use them to carry herbs, ointments and oils necessary during childbirth, to relax and reposition baby during labour, to carry baby and to comfort mothers.

20 Your gift of $50 will support parteras and Indigenous weavers.

Opening doors

The Nuu-chah-nulth Economic Development Corporation in B.C. empowers Indigenous youth to start their own business by providing access to capital, training and mentorship.

With a loan from NEDC, Michelle Reichert of the Peepeekisis Cree Nation launched a successful natural medicine business.

21 Your gift of $50 supports Indigenous youth in business.

INDIGENOUS MINISTRIES OF THE ANGLICAN CHURCH OF CANADA

Pandemic response

As part of its strategic plan to promote reconciliation with Indigenous Peoples, PWRDF is pleased to receive donations on behalf of the Anglican Church of Canada's Indigenous Ministries.

22 Your gift of $50 will support pandemic relief programs in Indigenous communities.

Weaving her future

Many women in war-torn Democratic Republic of Congo who are victims of sexual violence turn to the Panzi Foundation's Maison Dorcas to recover and restore their dignity.

23 Your gift of $100 provides sewing kits and basket weaving kits so women can learn a new skill and earn an income when they return home.

Acting out

CoCoSI is a grassroots organization in El Salvador supporting HIV and AIDS prevention and treatment, as well as gender education and LGBTQ+ rights. Using theatre, CoCoSI travels to the most impoverished rural communities to teach gender justice and empower children, teens and women victims of abuse.

24 Your gift of $75 supports radio plays.

25 Your gift of $250 supports staging, costumes and rehearsals.

Be a voice in the wilderness

Unmute yourself

The Páramos region of Colombia is the source of half of the world's moorlands and 70% of Colombia's fresh water. Yet climate change and mining threaten its existence. PWRDF and WACC (World Association for Christian Communication) have joined local Grupo Comunicarte to promote people-led environmental protection.

26 Your gift of $100 will support weekly radio broadcasts to inform Indigenous, rural and Afro-descendant communities on environmental issues.

The road to recovery

In refugee camps along the Thai-Burmese border, DARE (Drug and Alcohol Recovery Education) restores health and hope through active living programs. Many of DARE'S Addiction Worker Trainees are in recovery themselves and have previously been treated for their addictions. Becoming an Addiction Worker helps cement their recovery, as they help others become healthier.

27 Your gift of $385 supports trainees for six months as they learn the ropes.

In case of emergency

Since 2008 PWRDF has been a member of the Canadian Foodgrains Bank, a group of 15 church-based relief and development agencies working together to end hunger. When disaster happens, PWRDF combines funds from its equity in the Foodgrains Bank with other members' funds, and works together to provide emergency food relief in places such as Tanzania, Yemen and Zimbabwe.

Gifts to the Canadian Foodgrains Bank equity for emergency relief are eligible for up to a 4:1 match from the Government of Canada.

28 Your gift of $60 will provide food relief in communities affected by disaster.

29 Your gift of $60 will provide seeds and tools to help communities restore their food supply after disaster.
