Growing green

The Comprehensive Development Program of the Episcopal Church of Cuba is supporting families from 22 communities who are removing garbage, recovering recyclable materials and transforming community green spaces.

1. Your gift of $50 provides 50 tree seedlings to Ugandan farmers.

2. Your gift of $25 will supply a community with the tools needed to improve community green spaces.

3. Your gift of $50 will support a woman in Haiti milling 10 kg of breadfruit flour to sell or feed her family.

4. Your gift of $50 will ensure the important message of protecting the moorlands is heard far and wide.

5. Your gift of $100 builds equity in the Foodgrains Bank to reduce hunger everywhere.

6. Your gift of $100 ensures we have funds on hand for urgent humanitarian crises.

Plant it for the planet!

St. Jude Family Projects in Uganda has made great strides in improving the environment through tree planting. In the past year St. Jude’s farmers planted 25,000 moringa seedlings, of which 12,850 were given through World of Gifts! Not only do trees provide fruit and shade, they also restore soil health, which is imperative for future crops and gardens.

Be prepared

As climate-related disasters increase and become more extreme, the need for humanitarian responses continues. When disasters happen in Canada and around the world, Anglicans turn to PWRDF as their trusted relief agency. Through our membership in the Canadian Foodgrains Bank, ACT Alliance and the Anglican Alliance, we are able to leverage your donations and get funds to where they are needed.

Air time for clean water

High in the Andean mountains of Colombi, Grupo Comunicarte is training 10 radio journalists for environmental community programs about protecting the moorlands, source of 70% of the country’s fresh water. They will each train at least five people in their communities to do the same. Last year $1,050 was given to support this important climate action program in its first year.

Working towards a truly just, healthy and peaceful world
Seeding the future

In Bangladesh, women farmers keep the seeds of varieties that they know well and replenish stores each year upon harvest. These seed banks have been maintained locally through training supported by PWRDF partner UBINIG. However, floods have devastated the livelihood and food security of many farming families.

Your gift of $50 will provide Bangladeshi farmers with seeds to restore crops and to replenish seed banks.

Cows coming home

Last year World of Gifts supporters gave $4,100 to ECLOF’s model dairy farms, helping hundreds of dairy farmers improve their operations. A well cared for cow produces more milk and increases family income!

Your gift of $100 supports dairy farmers in Kenya as they learn about “smart” dairy farming.

A bushel and a peck

In Kakuma refugee camp in Kenya, poultry farming is very popular. PWRDF partner NCCK (National Council of Churches in Kenya) is supporting refugees and members of the host community to mill corn into chicken feed for the chickens in the refugee camp. They also sell the feed to earn an income.

Your gift of $100 supports poultry feed production in one of the largest refugee camps in the world.

Hatching an idea

Chickens can provide a family with protein rich eggs and meat, which can be consumed or sold to improve nutrition and livelihoods. Last year World of Gifts supporters purchased more than 2,600 chickens for families in Colombia and this year we are supporting chicken farmers in Zimbabwe too!

Your gift of $30 will provide chickens and other materials to help families farm chickens.

Support our conservation agriculture programs by giving five goats, restoring seed supplies, setting up chicken farmers, feeding chickens and training dairy farmers.

Your gift of $530 will support farmers in Bangladesh, Cuba, Colombia, Kenya, Malawi and Zimbabwe!

The World of Gifts supports bought 99 whole farms. This year let’s make it 100!

Pump it up!

Last year World of Gifts raised nearly $40,000 to support Utooni Development Organization (UDO) in Kenya to build 15 shallow wells (14 with hand pumps and one with a solar-powered pump). This year we want to provide even more clean water for rural communities in Kenya to improve health, reduce travel time to fetch water and keep more girls in school.

13 Your gift of $2,600 will build a well with a solar-powered pump.

14 Your gift of $1,200 will build a well with a hand pump.

A home run

15 Your gift of $185 will provide a family with a donkey to carry clean water home.

16 Your gift of $60 will provide a water tank for a family to store clean water.

Oh baby!

Partners In Health Lesotho is making sure new moms and babies get the best start possible. By providing infant starter kits including blankets, baby vests, jumpers, hats and a set of cloth diapers, new parents have the resources they need to care for their new babies.

17 Your gift of $25 gives a starter kit to new moms who attend at least four antenatal care visits.

A new thread

Maison Dorcas in the Democratic Republic of Congo provides women recovering from sexual violence a place to restore their lives. Last year World of Gifts provided 92 textile kits to help women learn new skills and generate income.

18 Your gift of $100 provides sewing or basket weaving kits to women recovering from sexual violence.

A fresh start

ARUWE in Uganda provides personal health kits to survivors of sexual and gender-based violence. These kits include sanitary pads, soap, toothbrush and toothpaste, underwear, toilet paper and more to restore dignity through recovery.

19 Your gift of $20 supports two women recovering from sexual and gender-based violence.

It’s show time!

CoCoSi is a grassroots organization focused on advocating for LGBTQ rights in El Salvador. Using creative theatre presentations and radio shows they educate the community and provide tools for victims of gender-based abuse. Last year donors supported five plays and 17 radio productions, spreading the message.

20 Your gift of $175 supports advocacy on the radio.

21 Your gift of $250 supports advocacy theatre.

Moving forward

Introducing Indigenous Responsive Programs

For 25 years, PWRDF has supported and accompanied Indigenous organizations in Canada working to reclaim their language and culture, to improve community health with clean water and safe birth, to support economic opportunities and to engage youth. This year we have launched a new grant to fund Indigenous groups working in these four areas:

- Community Health
- Climate Action
- Empowering Youth
- Safe Water

22 Support our Indigenous Responsive Programs with a gift of $50.
23 Support our Indigenous Responsive Programs with a gift of $100.
24 Support our Indigenous Responsive Programs with a gift of $200.
